Dear Valwood Community,

We are excited to welcome Bob Veto and Katherine Stuart from The Education Group to campus on April 27–29 as part of our Head of School search process. Their visit is an important opportunity for them to experience Valwood firsthand, our students, teachers, faculty, administrators, our culture, and the spirit that makes this community so special.

Throughout their time on campus, Bob and Katherine will be meeting with a wide range of constituents, including students, faculty, staff, administrators, and board members. Just as importantly, there will be meaningful opportunities for parents and faculty to engage directly with them.

Opportunities for Community Engagement:

• Open Parent Meeting

Crane Hall – Corker Giles Library

Tuesday, April 28 at 2:30 PM

All parents are warmly invited to attend this open session to share perspectives and help Bob and Katherine gain a deeper understanding of the Valwood experience.

• Full Faculty Meeting

Crane Hall – Corker Giles Library

Wednesday, April 29 at 7:45 AM

Faculty will have dedicated time to connect, share insights, and reflect on the opportunities and priorities ahead for Valwood's leadership.

In addition to these moments, Bob and Katherine will be immersed in campus life—touring with students, visiting classrooms, and spending time with various groups across the school.

Your voice and perspective are essential to this process. We encourage you to take part in these opportunities and help us showcase the strength, warmth, and distinctiveness of the Valwood community. We look forward to a meaningful visit!

Sincerely,
Head of School Search Committee
